Deputy Commissioner Naguib "Nick" Kaldas NSW Police Force

Nick joined the NSW Police Force in 1981 and has worked primarily in major crime investigations, Homicide, Armed Robbery, Major Drug investigations, Counter Terrorism and covert operations.

In 1999-2000 he established and led the Crime Management Framework for the Olympic Investigations Strike Force. From 2000-2004 he was the Commander, Homicide Squad. He led the high profile investigation into the murder of a Member of Parliament, John NEWMAN.

In January 2004 he was seconded to the Federal Government and deployed to Iraq as Deputy Chief Police Adviser to the Iraqi Government to help rebuild the Iraqi National Police.

From 2004-2006 he was the Commander, Gangs Squad and from 2006-2007 he was the Assistant Commissioner, Counter Terrorism and Special Tactics Command. In late 2007, he was appointed Deputy Commissioner, Specialist Operations.

In 2009-2010, he took up a 12-month secondment as Chief of Investigations in the Special Tribunal for Lebanon which was established by the United Nations Security Council to investigate the assassination of the former Lebanese Prime Minister, Rafiq HARIRI, and a number of related assassinations and attempted assassinations.

In August 2011, he was appointed Deputy Commissioner, Field Operations.

Since 2007, he has been the NSW Police Force's Corporate Spokesperson for Culturally, Linguistically, and Religiously Diverse Society.

Nick was a Police (Hostage) Negotiator for over 10 years, achieving national Counter Terrorist level, and completed the F.B.I. Hostage Negotiators Course. He holds a Masters Degree in Public Policy and Administration.

He has been awarded 5 Commissioners' Commendations, the Australian Police Medal, the Humanitarian Overseas Service Medal, the National Medal and clasp, the NSW Police Medal and the National Police Service Medal.
